WASHINGTON, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1901.

A TILT WITH CAPT, LEMLY

Mr. Rayner Offended by the Judge Advocate's Remarks.

An Explanation in the Nature of an Apology Afterward Clears the Atmosphere at the Court of Enquiry. The Fact That There Was a Delay of Thirty-six Hours in Informing Admirai Schley That Cervera Was at Santiago Brought Out by Lieutenant Staunton's Testimony.

The proceedings of the Court of Enquiry this morning were enlivened by several personal remarks which passed between the judge advocate and counsel for Admiral Schley. Captain Lemly accused Mr. Rayner of making inaccurate state ments to the Court and to this remark Mr. Rayner took offence. He said that in all his practice before courts no such charge had ever been made against him,

Just before the adjournment taken at : o'clock, Mr. Rayner brought the matter directly to the attention of the Court, for the purpose of exacting an apology from the judge advocate. Captain Lemly made an explanation, which, while not a formal apology, was nevertheless accepted as satisfactory.

At another stage of the proceedings while the judge advocate was reading Captain Parker interrupted him by calling out "Lemly," the judge advocate turned about and showed his resentment by saying sharply, "Captain Lemly, if you

The principal feature of the hearing today was the fact which Mr. Rayner developed that, although Admiral Sampson had been advised by Colonel Allen on the morning of May 20 that Cervera was in Santiago, he did not send a despatch by the Hawk to Schley informing him of this fact until the evening of May 21. This was also twenty-four hours after Sampson had received a confirmation of the information. Even then it was developed that he had told Schley to go to Santiago If, in his judgment, the Spaniards were not at Cienfuegos.

A further point shown was that Schley did not receive the positive instructions to go to Santiago until June 10, more than two weeks after he had arrived there, and the tenth day after Sampson had reached Santiago. Captain Chadwick was also on the stand this morning and testified that he did not see Despatch No. 8 until May 26, when Schley had replied to it.

A.—I do not remember any display of searchlights whatever.

Lieutenant Marsh was then called, but he had no material corrections to make.

It is not unusual for a witness, when referring to matters which he remembers, to say that it is imoon his mind by such and Mr. Rayner replied by saying that he did not agree that the judge advocate had a right to re-examine the witness upon these orders. They stood for them selves, and were admitted in evidence The question is simply in reference to the time when Captain Chadwick first kn of the existence of order No. 8, he said Captain Lemly-That is not the way you

MR. CULLOM FOR CHAIRMAN

Likely to Head the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The Subject Discussed at the White House-Reciprocity and Commercial Treaty Talk-Senator Fryc and Others Call on Mr. Roosevelt.

It now seems quite certain that Sena or Cullom of Illinois will be the next hairman of the Senate Committee or oreign Relations. Senator Frye, of faine, who is entitled to the chairmansh! y virtue of seniority, called at the White House today and this subject was dis ussed.

"I will probably be obliged to stay with he Committee on Commerce, and in this vent Senator Cullom will, of course, beome Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations," said he in response to a question. "Yes, I'll probably be President oro tem, of the Senate," Senator Frye added when this matter was mentioned. The impression that Senator Cullon will succeed to this important position which was made vacant by the death of enator Davis, is heightened by the fact hat the President and Mr. Cullom, in he course of a conference as the White the subject of reciprocity. Senator Cullom stated that he would naturally assum he chairmanship of the Senate Commit ee on Foreign Relations if Senator Frye did not, he being the next member in order of seniority.

"There are a dozen proposed reciproc-ty treaties on hand, and they should be disposed of either by ratification or re-ection during the coming session of Con-gress," said Senator Cullom, apropos of he subject.

THE CASE OF MISS STONE.

Every Effort Made to Secure the Missionary's Release.

Although the State Department is not prepared to make an official statement concerning the case of Miss Stone, the American missionary abducted by Bulgarian brigands, it is known that every No official would discuss the mai ter in detail today, although Mr. Adee the Acting Secretary of State, explained that the situation was so delicate that the utmost secrecy was necessary to eccessful conclusion of the negotiation It is certain that the United States Government is doing everything in its power to save Miss Stone and secure her iberty. The reports thus far received rom Censul General Dickinson do no show whether or not a respite has been granted. As a matter of fact, there is very indication that the whereabouts of the brigands are unknown, and that the sionary is in a most dangerous posi tion. It is believed that Mr. Dickinso has been compelled to seek the assistan of an intermediary for the purpose of dealing with the agent of the abductors who are using every device to concea their identity and save themselves from the penalty for their outrageous acts:

It was said today in a most reliable quarter that there is every reason to be-lieve that, in its efforts to arrange for he release of Miss Stone, the United States Government has appealed to Russia for aid in forcing Bulgaria and Turkey to give their loyal support to the moven It is expected that within a few days many of the mysterious phases of the matter will have been cleared up and that something more definite concerning the whereabouts of the missionary and her captors will have been made known. While the State Department has been noving quietly in the matter, and has, to all outward appearances, seemed to take only a casual interest in the case, there is no doubt that the most strenuous efforts have been employed to save Miss Stone from the brigands and that these efforts will be continued until the object has been accomplished.

BOER INVADERS CAPTURED

Scheeper's Commando Taken by General French's Men.

Kitchener Reports a British Victory, but Fails to Give Details-Burgher Leader Had Been Operating in Cape Colony for a Long Period.

LONDON, Oct. 12.-The War Office has eccived a report from General Lord Kitchener to the effect that Commandant Scheeper's commando has been taken by General French's columns. Scheeper has been operating in Cape Colony for some time and has caused the British military forces no end of trouble.

The commando was last reported within about 150 miles of Cape Town, and it was feared that it might make an effort toinvade that place.

Commandant Scheeper has been operating in Cape Colony for several months. On July 8 last he entered and burned Murraysburg. Later on his laager was captured, and at that time it was scovered that while Scheeper had some Boers with him, a large part of his force consisted of Cape insurgents.

General Kitchener reported some weeks aftrward that a train with stores had been held up and captured by Scheeper's commando, eight miles from Beaufort West. Since that time Scheeper has been operating in the neighborhood of Morsel Bay. Some of the reports said that his commando was made up principally of half-grown Cape Colony boys.

On account of the trouble that Scheeper has given in the Colony the detailed ac ount of his capture is awaited here with inusual interest. General Kitchener, in his report, fails to give any intimation of the losses in the battle, if there was one, although the War Office is inclined to be-lieve that the Boers were surrounded sudlenly and captured without great loss of

The taking of Scheeper will do a great deal toward restoring normal con in Cape Colony.
